Plenary II: Program

For almost a decade, we have seen some major organizational changes in research libraries. Unfortunately, East Asian libraries have been on the receiving end of such changes. Decision makers rarely seek the opinions of CEAL members even though their decisions impact how they operate. This year's program aims to provide an internal study on some organizational changes impacting the East Asian libraries in North America, in order to help CEAL members to take leadership to form a strategic position on some of the most critical organizational issues related to our services and operations.
